Five Sample Analytical Reasoning Questions and Explanations

Identifying each group of questions in this section is based on a set of conditions. In answering some of the questions, it may be useful to draw a rough diagram. Choose the response that most accurately and completely answers the question and marks the corresponding space on your answer sheet.

Passage for Question 1

A medical clinic has a staff of five doctors—Dr. Albert, Dr. Brown, Dr. Calogian, Dr. Debra, and Dr. Frank. The medical records secretary maintains exactly five conferences, which she assigns to doctors, subject to the following restrictions:

- (1) Dr. Albert attends a conference, and Dr. Debra does not attend it.
- (2) Dr. Brown attends a conference, and either Dr. Calogian or Dr. Debra, but not both, attends it.
- (3) Dr. Calogian attends a conference, and Dr. Frank does not attend it.
- (4) Dr. Frank attends a conference, and either Dr. Albert or Dr. Brown, but not both, attends it.

Question 1

If Dr. Brown attends one of the conferences, then which one of the following would be a complete and accurate list of the other members of the clinic who also attend that conference?

- (A) Dr. Albert and Debra
- (B) Dr. Albert and Frank
- (C) Dr. Calogian and Debra
- (D) Dr. Debra
- (E) Dr. Frank

Explanation for Question 1

This question requires you to determine, from the conditions given, which doctors can attend the same conference. The question asks you to "find the clinic's doctor who attends one of the conferences," and you are asked to choose the response that would be a list of all and only those doctors who attend the conference with Dr. Brown. Since you are asked what would be a "complete and accurate list" (emphasis added) of those doctors who attend the conference with Dr. Brown, you must determine as accurately as possible those responses which either are inaccurate (that is, cannot be true), or incomplete (that is, do not include everyone who must accompany you in cases of the doctor going to the conference). This can be determined only with the use of a diagram.

Response (A) states that, along with Dr. Brown, Drs. Albert and Debra also attend the conference. But the first condition tells us that "Dr. Albert attends a conference, and Dr. Debra does not attend it." So, Drs. Brown, Albert, and Debra cannot all attend the same conference. Response (A), then, is incorrect.

Response (B) is incorrect for a similar reason. The fourth condition tells us what would be true if Dr. Frank attends a conference, namely, that "either Dr. Albert or Dr. Brown, but not both, attends it." Since we know that Dr. Brown attends the conference, we know that it cannot be true that Dr. Albert and Frank also attend that conference.

Response (C) is also incorrect. The second condition tells us what must be true if Dr. Frank attends a conference. Since we know that Dr. Brown does attend the conference, we also know that "either Dr. Calogian or Dr. Debra, but not both, attends it."

Responses (D) and (E) need to be analyzed slightly differently. The condition rules out Dr. Brown's and Dr. Debra's going to the same conference—response (D)—and no condition restricts Dr. Brown's going with Dr. Brown to a conference—response (E). But recall that the question asks for what would be a "complete and accurate list" of the doctors who attend the conference with Dr. Brown. We know from the second condition that at least one other person must accompany Dr. Brown, and that among those who accompany Dr. Brown are either Dr. Calogian or else Dr. Debra. Since the condition also still requires anyone to accompany Dr. Debra, it is possible that Dr. Debra is the only
